

In the art picture above explains how a mother can do it all by herself, here illustrated that mother have many hands in doing his job, starting from taking care of child and taking care of other things for everyday purposes. Mother is a super woman who can and can do everything even if only by herself. Who is the first person we should respect? The answer is mother, mother and mother. This is the right answer to the above question although it must be repeated up to three times.
